Take a dash of ABBA, a little Elton John and a touch of the Bee Gees and you'd have Ryan & Fi, a cabaret pop duo from Sydney, Australia who specialise in cute love songs and feel good pop numbers. Ranging from upbeat little ditties to beautiful love ballads, their piano based originals are about the simple things in life that inspire, move and amuse us. As one fan recently put it, their sound is 'like summer'.

Since meeting and bonding over a mutual love of corny old love songs in a Sydney cafe in 2005, Ryan & Fi teamed up, performing in a variety of different bands and musical shows. However, in 2012 they stripped things back to form the quirky and fun loving duo that is Ryan & Fi. Becoming partners on stage and off (they recently got married), their music features strong male and female lead vocals, mixed with beautiful vocal harmonies.

Their debut EP "Golden" was born after Ryan wrote and recorded a song for his brother Luke who passed away in a climbing accident back in 2012. However, rather than being depressing 'Golden' is instead an uplifting tribute to love (winning it, losing it and perhaps most of all appreciating it). Originally recorded and released in hard copy for fans at their live performances, they have since made it more widely available in MP3 format through a range of online retailers.

Ryan & Fi still perform shows and house concerts throughout Australia, although they now spend most of their time busking around the streets of Sydney in places like Circular Quay, Town Hall, Oxford Street and Lane Cove. Their crowd pleasing, fun filled live performances have a distinct vaudevillian style and are a mix of piano, harmonies, comedy and dance.

Enjoyed by adults and children alike, their music is a celebration of life's ups and downs that leaves you feeling joyful and uplifted.
